POPE VISITS WOUNDED.

The universal brotherhood, spoken of by Archbishop Ireland, of St. Paul, was further emphasized in Rome yesterday morning when, upon the arrival of 1,500 wounded from Messina and Reggio, Mayor Nathan telephoned the Vatican asking whether these unfortunates could be taken in there. The Vatican replied in the affirmative, and the wounded were received with open arms.

To realize fully what this incident signifies it must be explained that Signor Nathan is not a Catholic and he was at one time grand master of the Freemasons.

The first 120 of the wounded sent to the Vatican yesterday morning were received at the railroad station by Monsignor Maciariello, and especially by the pope. Some of them were taken to the Vatican in public conveyances, but the more grievously injured were carried on stretchers by the Red Cross. They were received in the Vatican precincts by the curial sisters.

The pope could not restrain his desire to bring them consolation and sought them out. He passed through the Basilica of St. Peter's, over the arch connecting the Basilica with the hospital. Although he did not actually set foot on Italian territory he in reality went outside that area which under the law is guaranteed and enjoys the right of extra territoriality. The hospital, although belonging to the pope, stands on Italian ground.

The pope's entrance into the hospital was the sign for an outburst of emotion, not only on the part of the patients, but even from the pope himself and the members of his suite. Many of those who were not gravely wounded insisted on jumping out of bed to kneel and kiss the pontiff's hand. The pope spoke consolingly to each unfortunate. He said that since the earthquake he had lived only to think of them and study the best means of helping them. All his prayers to the Almighty had implored mercy, clemency and power to undergo the terrible strain, rising up again through the comfort of religion.

HAINS ON THE STAND.

Taking the witness stand at Flushing, N. Y., in his own defense, Thornton Jenkins Hains for over four hours yesterday related with a wealth of detail the story of the shooting of William E. Annis and of the conjugal trouble of Capt. Peter C. Hains, jr., that counsel asserts caused the mental unbalancing the army officer and led to the killing of the publisher on sight. When court adjourned last night Hains' direct examination had not been concluded.

Thornton Hains told his story in snappy, crisp sentences that fell from his lips as soon as his counsel had completed his interrogations. He showed no signs of nervousness and at times during the trial illustrated his brother's expressions and appearance when speaking of his wife's conduct with dramatic inflection of voice and facial expression.

The defendant declared that when he went to Bayside to look at real estate on August 15 he had no idea that his brother was armed and that he did not know that Annis was at the yacht club. He told the jury that all the shots had been fired by Captain Hains before he rushed to the boat to protect his brother from John Tonnig, the boatman, and the club members, who he said he thought would harm the captain.

Thornton Hains denies that he pointed a revolver at Mrs. Annis. The defendant stated that he had no idea how many shots Captain Hains had fired and when Charles Roberts, a club member, picked the revolver up and the muzzle of the weapon pointed at him, he drew his own gun and told Roberts not to shoot.

Don't Take the Risk.
When you have a bad cough or cold do not let it drag along until it becomes chronic bronchitis, or develops into an attack of pneumonia, but give it the attention it deserves and get rid of it. Take Chamberlain's Cough Remedy and you are sure of prompt relief. From a small beginning the sale and use of this preparation has extended to all parts of the United States and to many foreign countries. Its many remarkable cures of coughs and colds have won for it this wide reputation and extensive use. Sold by W. F. Creighton & Co. and Richard Gibson.

PRIEST AND GIRL GONE.

Rev. Filomena Siani, assistant priest at St. Rocco's Roman Catholic Church, in Newark, N. J., and Julia Leete, 17 years old, disappeared simultaneously last Thursday, and yesterday the girl's father received a letter from the priest stating that they had been married in New York, and would not be heard from again. Rev. Father Siani had been curate in the church for two years. He had heard confessions and offered the sacrifice of the mass daily. He had heard many times the confession of the girl with whom he eloped, and had called frequently at her home. Rev. James Zaccorelli, rector of the church, said yesterday he would take steps to have the eloping priest unfrocked. Bishop O'Connor has been notified.

Good for cuts, burns, bruises and scratches, but especially recommended for piles—De Witt's Carbolic Witch Hazel Salve. Sold by W. F. Creighton & Co.

Fever Sores.

Fever sores and old chronic sores should not be healed entirely, but should be kept in healthy condition. This can be done by applying Chamberlain's Salve. This salve has no superior for this purpose. It is also most excellent for chapped hands, sore nipples, burns and diseases of the skin. For sale by W. F. Creighton & Co., and Richard Gibson.
